

Drawing and Painting

Our tutors are a group of professional artists who offer an interesting variety of approaches, styles and techniques when teaching. As a result, each class is a unique experience; one beginners painting class will be very different to the next – you might enjoy the different approaches and book onto more than one.

Courses are offered throughout the county both in our centres, and at inspiring venues such as the Ashmolean Museum, and if the weather is good, outdoors using beautiful Oxfordshire as a backdrop.

You will find all combinations of drawing and painting classes to suit your particular interest, from 'Just Drawing' to painting in oils, acrylic and watercolour and illustration work offered at all levels to suit different abilities.

The general drawing and painting courses cover a wide variety of media use, style and content, often linked to a tutor's professional art practice.

All course titles marked ▲ are offered through partner organisations. For more information or to enrol please contact the relevant organisation direct; contact details are given at the end of the course listings. It is not possible to enrol on these courses through Adult Learning.
