The range of choices

Young people are expected to remain in some sort of learning until they are 18. Most stay in school or college, but there are lots of other options available.

School

You could stay at school for Year 12 or you may want to apply to another school that has different courses and support for students. Have a look at school websites for information about what’s offered. You can find at this link a List of Oxfordshire Schools and information about Specialist Schools & Resource Bases here.

Further Education (FE)
(Find out more about what they offer in the section ‘Going to College’).

The following colleges in Oxfordshire offer a range of courses:

- Abingdon and Witney College
- Activate Learning which includes the City of Oxford College and Banbury and Bicester College
- The Henley College¹.

You don’t have to go to your nearest FE College. Depending on what you want to study and the college facilities you may wish to apply elsewhere. If you go further away, you may not get as much help with travel costs and you could spend a long time travelling every day.

Other FE colleges that are close to Oxfordshire include:

- Amersham & Wycombe College, Buckinghamshire
- Aylesbury College, Buckinghamshire
- Berkshire College of Agriculture, Berkshire
- Cirencester College, Gloucestershire
- Moulton College, Warwickshire
- Newbury College, Berkshire
- New College Swindon, Wiltshire

¹ The Henley College is a Sixth Form College. This means that they specialise on the 16-19 age group
- Reading College, Berkshire
- Swindon College, Wiltshire

You can find out more about the individual colleges by going to their websites.

Independent learning providers

If you want to continue learning, you don’t have to go to school or college. There are independent organisations that offer entry level courses and employability training for young people who want to get a qualification or learn the skills to help find a job. There are some examples of independent providers in section 5, and you can search for courses and vacancies at http://oxme.info/cms/opportunities

Support to find employment

If you are over 18 you may prefer to find a job. If you are under 18 you can also get a job, but you will need to do some learning alongside this – either on an apprenticeship, or training linked to the work you are doing. There are organisations that can help you get ready for work and find a job. Some are listed in the section ‘Other learning providers and support to find employment’.
Working out which route is best for you

You can get information, advice and guidance (IAG) from a number of places:

School or College

If you are starting to think about post-16 options, the best place to begin is to arrange a meeting with the Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) or Careers Adviser in your school or college. This person will be able to offer you advice about the options available and what you need to do. They can help you to set up contacts and arrange visits for you to see what is available.

Education, Employment and Training (EET) Service

When you leave school the EET Service will be able to help. The Children and Family Centres around the county all have an EET Worker lead who can advise about career options available and help you work out which route is best for you. You can access this support by contacting your local Children and Family Centre or getting in touch the EET Team on 01865 328460 or via www.oxme.info/extrasupport.

The EET Service offers:

- 1:1 appointments and long-term mentoring with an EET worker
- Weekly job clubs and drop ins at the Children and Family Centres and other locations around Oxfordshire (dates and venues listed at www.oxme.info/jobclubs)
- Information over the phone (01865 328460) or web chat with the Opportunities Team
- Access to the National Citizen Service – a personal development programme for 16/17 year olds

OXME

www.oxme.info is Oxfordshire County Council’s website for young people. It has a huge section about education and work. This includes a live vacancy search and help with applying for jobs, courses and apprenticeships. Vacancy information is updated daily and you can subscribe to weekly email updates here http://oxme.info/cms/

The Family Information Directory

You can search for IAG yourself using the directory. Click Family Information Directory to take you to the site.
The Local Offer for SEN and Disability

The local offer pages also have information about education and training, and other things that may be useful as you move into adult hood such as home and travel.

National Careers Service (NCS)

The NCS has careers information on line. If you are over 18 it is possible to make an appointment with an NCS Adviser face to face. Click National Careers Service to find contact information.

Oxfordshire’s job market

By using labour market information (LMI) you can increase your chances of getting a job by knowing what jobs are available now and will be needed in the future. Detail can be found on the O2i/LMI website.

Entry level vacancies advertised for jobs with salaries under £20,000 show that, in 2016, administration; chef; customer service; front desk; and caring skills are in high demand. The top 10 occupations during 2016 are shown in this table.
Going to college

For some young people, leaving school to go to college or any other post-16 provider can seem scary. To make it is easier, this section explains:

- Who to contact if you are thinking about going to a college in Oxfordshire
- What help is available.

It is always useful to speak to someone in college about what is available and all colleges will have ‘Open Days’ throughout the year. You can contact a member of staff directly and/or arrange a visit. You can also make an appointment to speak with the Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) specialist to support you with your career decisions. All colleges have a website so that you can find out what is available.

Financial information

You may be eligible to receive help with the costs of staying in education. There are different criteria you will have to meet so remember to ask about the different schemes available;

- Bursary Fund supports 16 to 19 year olds and those young people who need most help overcoming financial barriers to participating in education.
- Care to learn supports with the cost of childcare whilst attending a training course.
- Free meals are available if the student or parents are in receipt of one of the qualifying benefits.

Independent travel

A major step towards gaining independence is the ability to travel independently. Support may be available in college or through organisations such as ‘My Life My Choice’. Please ask when you visit the college if this is something you need help with.
Abingdon & Witney College

There are three main sites:

- The Abingdon campus on the Wootton Road in Abingdon
- The Witney campus on the Holloway Road in Witney
- Common Leys, a land based campus in Hailey, near Witney

To help you know what to expect when you visit there is short video, introduced by a student who recently studied at Abingdon and Witney College. Click here to watch it; Abingdon & Witney College video

Pathways
A range of provision to suit learner needs from PMLD to those needing to develop skills for employment. The majority of Pathways provision is offered at the Witney campus. Most students on Pathways courses will have an Education, Health & Care plan.

The level of support is generally less on the higher numbered Pathways, although support is offered on all programmes. Students are able to access speech and language therapy, physiotherapy and hydrotherapy if this has been assessed as needed.

Fast Forward (previously known as Future Pathways)
Fast Forward delivers a curriculum which enables young people who are working at Entry Level 3 or Level 1 to start to look at vocational options for work. Students can choose from a range of options to suit their interests and needs. They will continue to develop their functional skills, start exploring which vocational options might suit them best and continue to develop their friendship groups. Most students will gain some work experience throughout the course of the year leading to a variety of progression opportunities.

Gateway Centres
There is a Gateway Centre on both the Abingdon and Witney campuses, in Blackbird Leys and in Banbury. Gateway Centres offer learners a safe environment where they can access a structured package of learning that is tailored to their own needs, particularly if support is needed around interpersonal or social difficulties. The purpose of the Gateway Centre is to enable young people to move forward with targeted support, either into further education, training or employment.

MAP College
MAP is the MacIntyre Abingdon Partnership. It is housed in a purpose-built building. MacIntyre provides an educational programme for young people with autism whose support needs cannot be met in the college. Classes are on campus as well as in the community. The programme is called ‘No Limits’ because it can be flexible and adapted to an individual person’s needs.
Supported Internships

Supported internships are offered in partnership with Oxford Employment Service (OES) and Mencap employment service. This will mean that you will be in the workplace for up to three days per week with one day in college. The expected outcome from this route is being able to maintain a paid position in a local company. An Education and Health Care Plan (EHCP) is required to access this programme.

Where individual needs are identified the college will endeavour to meet them through a range of support strategies.

Specialist support is available in a variety of ways:

- FEAST (Further Education Autism Specialist Team) is an autism support team made up of specialist staff with expertise in autism and Asperger’s syndrome. Students can receive support in a ‘Green Room’ on the Abingdon, Witney and Common Leys sites.

- Support is also available for Visual Impairment, Hearing Impairment or Physical Disability as well as for students with specific difficulties such as dyslexia, dyspraxia or shorter term support needs.

Aaron joined Pathway 3 as an anxious young man with little confidence. Independence and work seemed a long way off. During his time here, he has matured and grown in confidence and can now shop and use public transport independently. He has gained functional skills maths and English qualifications and taken part in a 2 week independent living experience. He is moving on by building on the skills he has learnt and preparing for the world of work through the Supported Internship programme and is hopeful his job placement will turn into a paid job.

Each college offers a range of Foundation Learning programmes, so it is best to make an appointment to talk with an Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) specialist first. Students are taught in small groups with learning support available which can be 1-2-1 if required.

Supported Foundation Pathway
The Supported Foundation Pathway is aimed at students who are working at pre-entry level through to entry level 2 and 3. The programmes develop amongst other things skills for living, independent skills, personal care, travel training, cookery skills, social development, working with others and work preparation. The course also embeds the learning of English and mathematics skills.

Students may progress from these programmes onto the Foundation Pathway, supported employment, supported internships or learning companies.

Foundation Pathway
The Foundation Pathway is aimed at students who are working at entry level 3 through to level 1 and above. These programmes are designed to engage the student in learning, build their confidence and focus on vocational options such as motor vehicle, construction, health & social care, IT, media, catering and public services. The programmes deliver English and mathematics qualifications, including GCSE resits.

Progression opportunities include further education at college, traineeships, apprenticeships or employment.

Supported Internships

Supported internships are offered in partnership with Oxford Employment Service (OES) and Mencap employment service. This will mean that you will be in the workplace for up to three days per week with one day in college. The expected outcome from this route is being able to maintain a paid position in a local company. An Education and Health Care Plan (EHCP) is required to access this programme.

Both the City of Oxford College and Banbury and Bicester College welcome applications from students with support needs. A broad range of support mechanisms are available and reasonable adjustments may be made to meet individual needs.

Some examples of the support on offer are:

- advice and information on disability support and reasonable adjustments at the college
- individual support plans
- access arrangements in exams
- specialist equipment
- support workers e.g. note-takers, communication support workers for deaf students, mentors
- liaison with academic department staff

If you feel you would benefit from such support please contact us to discuss.

Like many young people, Lucy left her local school at sixteen with few qualifications and little experience of the world of work. She was keen to learn new skills and gain experience that would help her realise her potential. Lucy joined Banbury College, part of Activate Learning, in 2014. She initially completed two New Direction programmes between 2014 and 2016. These programmes helped boost her confidence and improve her English and mathematics skills. During her time at college, Lucy has been making the most of the opportunities available to her. She gained a work experience placement in a childcare setting which was a great experience and really helped to improve her confidence.
about her chosen career pathway. Lucy left college in 2016 after completing her Level 1 in Health and Social Care and was offered a paid apprenticeship at Level 2. Lucy also achieved GCSE in English and mathematics along with improving her personal and social development.

Lucy said: ‘Studying at Banbury College has changed my life for the better. I would not be where I am now without the support and guidance I was given. I feel I can achieve now and will continue to work hard’

Georgia is on the Pathways course and this is what she said about it. “I love coming to college. I like learning about computers and using them. I like learning how to cook my own lunch and I like art because I am good at art. In the future I would like to continue to live at home but want to do some supported work. The staff are friendly to me and my tutor is lovely.”

Melissa began the Bridge course with a history of poor attendance and lacked confidence. She struggled with class activities and discussions and she was very nervous, sometimes preferring not to turn up for lessons. With help from her mother, teachers and support staff she was encouraged and discovered that trying the work, making mistakes and learning from them was more enjoyable than not doing anything. She began to enjoy lessons, getting involved in discussions, volunteering answers to questions, laughing and smiling. Melissa was very dependent on learning support and had not experienced everyday things like travelling out of the town but work experience arranged by the college helped develop her personal, social and employability skills. Melissa achieved Maths, ICT, and English qualifications and decided to stay on at college the following year to continue increasing her confidence and developing the skills required to move on from the College.

- Letting your new placement know how you want to be supported
  - It is useful for you and your current school to let your new placement know of your learning support needs so they can arrange to put support in place for you.

- Getting a taster of your new placement
  - Once you know where you are going it may be arranged for you to spend some time there so you can become familiar with the buildings, people and travel before starting. Also they can get to know you and your aspirations.

- Start Post-16 Course

Careers Guidance

- Over the last few years your school should have been providing careers guidance to help you decide what you want to do.

Sharing Information

- Telling your new placement information about any extra support needs will not affect getting your place but help to make it better when you go there. It is best to let them know as early as possible. If you would rather not share information about yourself with your new school/college then you do not have to.
